PROJECTS

Spottabl Team (2022)

I designed and developed the UI of a simple page for assigning , unassigning , searching, and listing of the users using React.js .I used browser local storage to maintain the state and used React Function Components with hooks .

Robo Friends (2021)

This is a React.js framework application utilizing a few outside APIs to create a stateful web application.Utilizing the APIs from JSON Placeholder for user information and RoboHash for user images.

Real Estate Valuation (2020)

Real estate valuation is a process that determines the economic value of a real estate investment. It applies random forest, ridge regression and linear regression to predict property prices . programmed algorithms that receive and analyse input data to predict output values .

Simple Linear Regression (2020)

Implemented Python's scikit learn linear regression method using C++. Includes a method of multiplying two vectors just like Numpy Array Multiplication. Calculates and returns the slope and intercept of the best fit line, and also predicts the values according to it.
